

The Scottish Government introduces new measures to help tenants during the COVID-19 Pandemic

The Coronavirus (Scotland) Act 2020 received Royal Assent today, 7th April.

Please find attached an extract from the guidance that contains information on the measures the Scottish Government has introduced to ensure that people who rent in both the social and private rented sectors are protected while confined to their homes.

The full guidance on the Act which the extract is taken from was published on the Scottish Government's website this morning:
